COMING IN ALONE THE EASIEST OF VICTORS. No small degree of turf enthusiasm was required to tract people to the Coney Island course yesterday, the driving storm, but the interest in the Emportum a sufficient to draw a fair attendance, including tree Lorillard, D. D. Withers, and other well-knowning mea. Mr. Belmont, however, was absent, and cing men. Mr. Belmont, however, was assent, and issed the chance of scoing Raceland win the Empium. Raceland was the favorite with the majority the small bettors and the great mass of the people the course, but the Dwyers and their friends supported Tea Tray freely enough to give him a lead in a book betting over Raceland. Mr. Haggin's Guarante book betting over Raceland. iso carried much money, both to win and for s piece, and Tristan found generous support. At the last moment there was a little rush on the part of a small and select clique to back Frederick Gobhard's coit, Owas, half-brother to the famous Iroquels. Owas, Guarantee and Tea Tray went out to make the pace, with Raceland in close attendance. They ran the first quarter in 25 seconds, the half in 50 seconds, and the three-quarters in 1:1771-4. There was no and the three-quarters in 1:17 1-4. There was no tering and no delay in the deep mud

Godfrey k him out wide at the turns to avoid any chance of cheting or interference. Along the backstretch celand was running with delightful case and power At the end of the mile, when half a mile remained, went up to first place, and from that instant the se was never in doubt. He kept the lead without urging or even riding and came home alone, while the ighted Marauder, ridden with energy and skill little Williams, got second place from Tea Tray. Guarantee had enough after running a mile. His mouth was sore and he was by no means at his best, but his owner thought he would take the chances and make an effort for the big stake. Persistent ill-luck ellings to the Haggin stable, which has not yet won a race at this meeting. Tristan was outpaced and could not stay the distance. Owas was a mero flash in the pan and never had any real chance. Tea Tray lasted well enough, but never in any part of his career has he had any just clasm to rank near a horse as Raceland. and liberality in paying $17,500 for the best twoyear-old of 1887 is likely to get its reward. Race and seems now to be getting into form, and if he only recovers completely his best form of last year he make Sir Dixon and even the great Emperor of Norfolk weary in some of the big three year-old stakes The Emperium, with its added $5,000, was worth to the winner nearly $10,000, a plump sum for Mr. ont to set off against the enormous expenses of his bugo racing stable. Raceland's success was a highly popular one and was much applauded, as it ought to have been. The time was not fast-2:42but the track was in almost the worst possible condition, and Raceland had everything safely and soundly beaten at the end of the first mile and never was reed to harry. It was indeed ill-fortune for the Haggin stable to lose the third race. Richmond and Favor were both withdrawn, leaving only Rupert to ran against Aurelia. Rupert has always been a poor horse in the mud, and therefore much could nee was felt in Aurelia. Rupert was allowed to lead for a mile, when Garrison began to close up rapidly with Aurelia. Up to the final furlong he rode the mare with perfect judgment and skill, but his finish seemed to lack his usual desperate energy. The result was that Rupert won by a short When asked after the race by B. A. Haggin how he happened to lose it, Garrison said that he thought he had won it. He did not deny that the mare could have beaten Ruport if she had been ridden with more power and vigor at the finish. There was great deal of bitter and ugly talk about this race, in the betting ring and in the club-house. Many of the most experienced, cautious and careful racing experts on the ground were profoundly dissatisfied with Carrison's riding, and expressed themselves

Joe Lee won the first race easily, with Brother Ban Joe Lee won the first race easily, with Brother Ban second. Mr. Caldwell gave a scattering start to the two-year-olds in the second race, but it did not affect the result, as the winner, Harrisburg got off badly and won castly. Harrisburg runs well in the mad, but his performance on Wednesday on a good track, was shocking. Uncle William Daly has bought the filly Glory from Mr. Belmont, and she was woll had been to the favorite, and got off well, but the mud seemed to step him.

Rapine was an outsider in the betting on the fifth race, and brought rich retears both in the books and in the French pools, French pools bringing over $80 for $5. His success was predicted in this column restricted.

Owas ran out as they swung into the straight, and led past the grand stand, Guarantee second, Tea Tray third, Tristan fourth, Raceland fifth, Prospect sixth, Marsuder seventh, and the Janet Murray colt last. The first quarter was run in 25 seconds. Raceland gradually improved his position as they made the turn at the quarter past, and when they started down the backstretch he took the lead from Guarantee, who had just disposed of Owas and sent him journeying to the rear. McLaughlin did his utmost to move up with Tea Tray, but he could get no better than second place, and was unable to hold that for more than a dozen strides. Williams's perseverance was rewarded, for Marauder gradually wore down opposition, and at the half-mile post was only helf a length behind Raceland, who now had the race at his mercy. The half was covered in 50 seconds, the three-quarters in 1:171-4, and the mile in 1:46. After making the long turn, Raceland continued to draw steadily away from his field, and coming on at his leisure won, pulled up, by three lengths. A GAY YOUNG BARTENDER WHO PROMISED TO

WED IN ALL DIRECTIONS.

A mania for marrying seems to have seized upon John H.

O'Neill, of No. 266 Wythe-ave., Brooklyn, bartender in his father's liquor store, who at the age of nineteen is now languishing in Raymond Street Jali to answer to a charge of breach of promise of marriage preferred by Mary Beatty, age seventeen, of No. 189 South Fourth-st. At least three girls supposed he would wed them, but to each the existence of rivals was unknown until recently. One day last week Miss Beatty informed his father that young O'Neill had deserted her for another girl, and the elder O'Nelll promised to see his son about the matter. The latter agreed to keep his word to the girl, and his father purchased him a wedding ring.

The youth visited the girl and promised to marry her the next evening, and then went to see Neille O'Shea, whom he had also promised to marry and persuaded her to elope with him and they went to the house of the Rev. Father Mafone to be married. But Mr. O'Shea, who had got wind of the affair, had preceded them and stopped the ceremony by taking his daughter home. When her lover failed to appear, Miss Beatty procured a warrant for his arrest, and then a servant in the O'Neill family claimed that the young Lotharie had agreed to marry her. Several suits for damages for injuries to hearts and blighted affections are expected.

A GREAT GAME AT BOSTON.

FOURTEEN INNINGS TO DECIDE—WON BY THE LOCAL CLUB AT LAST.

Boston, June 28.—The weather was cold and bloatering to-day, and the attendance at the game of baseball between the Boston and the Washington clubs was meagre in consequence. Only about 1,200 people were present, but that fortunate number saw one of the most exciting games of the season. Both nines were in fine form, and the home club won only after fourteen innings had been played. The score was tied in the seventh inning, and remained so until the twelfth inning, when each nine scored two runs, still leaving the clubs on even terms.
